Open Public Comment.

Giulianna Pendleton

Rob Moore

- Commented that this Element looks great overall, in one area there is some lacking in affordability and access.

Amy

- Commented that this Element looks good, but would like to see the addition of indicators or measurables (if appropriate) to show if we have made progress.

Jeff Suzuki

- Commented that this Element should state that we should have better housing access.

Alicia Cinema Stereo

- Commented that as the outreach and social media coordinator for the Los Gatos Anti-Racism Coalition she has received descriptions of many experiences that minorities have had in Town, and these conversations have been very important for making progress on the many issues in Town, but trust needs to be developed.

Closed Public Comment.

Committee discussed the matter and provided the following comments and direction:

- Add references to additional statistics available in the Background Report.
- Add mention of affordable housing in the introduction, and a reference to the Housing Element.
- In the first paragraph, be specific about what kind of diversity the Town is looking to increase: social; economic; and racial diversity.
- Revise definitions, where possible, to definitions used by other agencies, for example the USEPA definition of Environmental Justice.
- Add mention of affordable housing under Goal RSEJ-1, possibly with an additional policy.
- Add a policy to improve socio-economic status.
- RSEJ-1.5 - "Welcoming Town" should mention ability status.
- Add Ms. Pendleton's comment about light pollution.

- In Policy RSEJ-3.4, add “in land use decision processes” or similar language to clarify the purpose, and reorder policies so that this one is the first under RSEJ-3.
- Implement comments from Ms. Pendleton regarding RSEJ-4 to include open space/green space.
- Add references to related Life Long Learning and Public Facilities topics.
- Make sure that access to clean drinking water is covered by policies.
- In RSEJ-6.3, replace “brainstorm” with “promote” or “encourage.”
- Combine RSEJ-6.6 and 6.7, and remove specific reference to childcare to refocus policy to meeting everyone’s needs for participation in meetings.
- In RSEJ-6.5, use “including” instead of “specifically.”
- Consider an implementation program to provide proactive outreach for Racial and Social Justice in Town.
- Remove Implementation Programs O and P and replace them with a more general implementation program as previously discussed.

2. Review and Discussion of the Initial Draft General Plan Introduction.

Jennifer Armer, Senior Planner, presented the staff report.

Open Public Comment.

Giulianna Pendleton

- Commented that the Guiding Principles could be better centered on the biotic community, and language should be changed from the protection of “natural resources” to the protection of “natural environment.”

Closed Public Comment.

Committee discussed the matter and provided the following comments and direction:

- Revise the Vision as described in Committee Member Janoff’s written comments, except add “environmental,” so that it reads, “racial, social, and environmental justice.” Also delete “best practices” and replace “health” with “well-being.”
- Implement recommended wording modifications to the “Protect Natural Resources” Guiding Principle as recommended in written comments from Giulianna Pendleton.
- Re-order Guiding Principles to alphabetical order.
- Delete the word “downtown” from the “Community Vitality” Guiding Principle.
- Replace the word “Recognize” with the word “Value” in the “Inclusivity” Guiding Principle.
- Revise language on page 1-2 for clarity.
- On pages 1-13 and 1-14 move definition of Goal and Policy before the figure.
- Revise definitions, where possible, to definitions used by other agencies, like OPR.

- Under the description of implementation programs there should be clarification of how the process works, and whether all implementation programs are expected to be completed.

The next GPAC meeting will be on Thursday, April 15, 2021.
